Ben Morton has an incredibly powerful story to tell. He shares with audiences the leadership principles learned from his career in the Army and with global businesses.

Leadership is less about the tools and models and more about understanding what it really means to be a leader

Leadership is about personal sacrifice and putting the needs of others ahead of your own

Leadership is both a great privilege and a great responsibility.

Ben delivers highly emotional speeches, packed with personal experience and points of reflection that leave his audiences with clear actions to take away and apply.

He draws from personal leadership experience gained from operating on the battlefield and in the boardroom. Coupled with this he has 10 years' experience of developing leaders and studying how people actually learn.

Book Ben to speak on

Lifting the Mask on Leadership. How to strip out the complexities of leadership and move away from a reliance on tools and models. Getting back to the core principles of leadership and being the best, most authentic version of ourselves as leaders.

The Three Secrets of Trust... that create high performing teams and will lead people to do incredible things for each other and for their leaders.

About Ben Morton

Ben is a graduate of the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst. As a British Army Captain he completed two tours of duty in Iraq. He moved into business as Global Head of HR, World Challenge, later part of Tui Travel and followed this with a period in the Tesco Leadership Academy.

Alongside his military and corporate career Ben has also led expeditions around the world from places as diverse as the Himalaya's, European Alps and the Mongolian Steppe country.

Ben is now a partner at TwentyOne Leadership. He is a Chartered Member of the CIPD and a Member of the Institute of Leadership and Management.

“ I heard Ben deliver the most inspiring talk on Leadership last week at the London Business Network. If you are running a company and want leaders to lead from the front, then please ask Ben to show you how. It will be a journey like you have never seen or experienced before! Truly inspirational.

Francis West

“ Ben is instantly credible and engaging. He has that rare ability to draw on real life experiences, talk about them in clear, simple language, devoid of jargon, buzzwords and platitudes, and relate them to the world of business and indeed the bigger world beyond. Well worth listening to, a leader to follow for sure.
